

We have already seen the damage caused by conglomeration of the media in the late 90's. Independent media sources are essential for the vitality of our democracy.